Harvard Loses Grand Chance to Win

MICHIGAN TAKES A TITLE

Minnesota Goes Down Before Coach Yost's Eleven, Giving Latter Middle West Championship—Wesleyan Beaten by Bowdoin.

The formal wind-up to the football season occurred Saturday, but there will be more games Thursday and Saturday, though not of such vast importance. Cornell and Pennsylvania will meet on Thursday and West Point and Annapolis Saturday. But what happened last Saturday is enough football to last a long time. Yale's great defensive fight against the victorious eleven is the sensation of the season. If Harvard could not beat Yale with such odds in its favor, it may have to wait a long time before it will have such a fine chance again. Michigan upset Minnesota and the Wolverines take the championship of the middle West. Brown bowled over the "Aggies" in fine style. Bowdoin defeated Wesleyan and Holy Cross got away with Tufts. The results:—

At New Haven, Harvard 0, Yale 0.
At Providence, Brown 49, Massachusetts agricultural college 0.
At Portland, Me., Bowdoin 5, Wesleyan 0.
At Ann Arbor, Michigan 6, Minnesota 0.
At West Point, West Point 17, Trinity 0.
At Boston, Holy Cross 14, Tufts 0.
At Easton, Pa., Lafayette 14, Lehigh 0.
At Annapolis, Navy 9, New York university 0.
At Columbus, Oberlin 0, Ohio State 0.
At Champaign, Ill., Illinois 3, Syracuse 0.

HARVARD TO PLAY TIGERS

Game at Princeton—Dartmouth Stays on Both Schedules.

New Haven, Ct., Nov. 21.—It was stated on the best of authority Saturday that Harvard and Princeton have signed an agreement to meet in football next fall. This is significant. The Tigers have not played the crimson since 1890, and that year and the year previous Princeton won. The game next fall will be played at Princeton, N. J., and the year after that at Cambridge. The agreement was practically reached Saturday afternoon by representatives of the Harvard and Princeton football associations. It had been supposed that in the event of a Princeton-Harvard game both would drop Dartmouth, but this will not be the case. Harvard will drop Cornell and the Princeton game will be played on the date Cornell has enjoyed for the past two years.

Cornell is no drawing card at Cambridge, while Dartmouth is; Harvard does not care to part with Dartmouth and Dartmouth would hate to miss the heavy returns from the Cambridge game. Drawing cards count on schedules, and for this reason Princeton will keep Dartmouth on its list. It may be that Princeton will agree to play Dartmouth in New England next fall, probably near Boston, but that matter has not been definitely decided upon. Dartmouth-Princeton matches have been close in late years and the green is the only team outside of Yale that is able to beat the crimson once in a while. In the last seven years, Dartmouth has scored 51 points to Harvard's 64.

20 YEARS FOR DR. THOMPSON

The Former Boston Dentist Goes to San Quentin Prison—Convicted of Murder in Second Degree.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—Twenty years in San Quentin prison was the sentence imposed Saturday upon Dr. Robert Thompson of Boston, Mass., convicted of murder in the second degree, through a criminal operation performed upon Eva Swan, a young stenographer, whose mutilated body was discovered under the floor of a vacant house.

TRY THIS

TWO MINUTE CURE FOR COLD IN HEAD OR CHEST

It Is Curing Thousands Daily and Saves Time and Money.

Get a bowl three-quarters full of boiling water, and a towel.
Four into the water a teaspoonful of HYOMEL (pronounced High-o-me).
Put your head over the bowl and cover both head and bowl with towel.
Breathe the vapor that rises for two minutes, and presto! your head is as clear as a bell, and the tightness in the chest is gone.
Nothing like it to break up a heavy cold, cure sore throat or drive away a cough. It's a pleasant cure. You'll enjoy breathing Hyomel. You'll feel at once its soothing, healing and beneficial effects as it passes over the inflamed and irritated membrane. 30 cents a bottle, at druggists everywhere. Ask the Red Cross Pharmacy for extra bottle Hyomel Inhalant.

To Prevent Bilious

Attacks is better than to cure them. When you are worried by dull headache, furred tongue, inactive bowels, don't delay an hour; take a dose of the mild effective cathartic, Hood's Pills, and you will soon feel well again. Sold by druggists everywhere. 25c.

ALL STOMACH DISTRESS AND DYSPESIA WILL GO

Misery from Heartburn, Gas and Indigestion Vanish and Your Stomach Feels Fine Five Minutes After.

As there is often someone in your family who suffers an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiesin in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after.

Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cases of Diapiesin, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn and other distress go in five minutes and relieves at once such miseries as belching of gas, eructations of sour, undigested food, nausea, headaches, dizziness, constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised that they have about made up their minds that they have something else wrong, or believe theirs is a case of nervousness, gastritis, catarrh of the stomach or cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your real trouble is, what you eat does not digest; instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, gas and stomach poison, which putrefies in the digestive tract and intestines, and, besides, poisons the breath with nauseous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Diapiesin.

T. R. VISITS WHITE HOUSE, TAFT'S AWAY

Colonel Inspects Changes Made by Successor and Leaves Card—Views His Trophies.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt visited the White House Saturday for the first time since he left it as president in 1909. The former president arrived in an automobile and drove up to the main entrance. He left his card for Mrs. Taft, who is in New York. Col. Roosevelt then visited the executive offices and was quick to note the additions and changes which have been made since he left. Assistant Secretary Foster guided him through the new portion. The president stood there for a moment looking through the south windows out into the White House grounds, then he turned and walked out in to the waiting-room, where he shook hands with all the clerks and other attaches. He drove away again after having spent perhaps 20 minutes at the place where he put in the seven most active years of his life.

For the first time since his return from Africa, he viewed Saturday in the national museum building the specimens which he and his companions obtained on their expedition through East Africa. "Isn't that a fine specimen," and "By George, I'm glad we were able to secure a complete series of these," were frequent comments which he made while he was examining, in company with Dr. C. Hart Merriam, chief of the biological survey, Major Mearns, Dr. Heller and J. Alden Loring, the latter three of whom were with him on the trip, the hundreds of various animals and birds found in all stages of completion, some in the taxidermist's shop, others still being tanned, but only a few mounted for exhibition. Looking at the big bare skull of a lion, rhinoceros or elephant, he would say: "That's the one I shot at such and such a place, isn't it, Heller?" In nine cases out of ten, Dr. Heller would answer in the affirmative. He finished his visit to the Smithsonian institution barely in time to rush off for a luncheon at the home of Gilbert H. Grosvenor, secretary of the National Geographic society.

THREATEN JUDGES WITH DEATH

Intimidating Letter Concerning Photo-engravers' Strike in Boston.

Boston, Nov. 21.—A threat of death in the event of the officers of the International Photo-engravers' union being given jail sentences to-day for contempt of court is said to have been contained in a letter received by one of the justices of the Massachusetts superior court in Boston. The letter was mailed from Chicago and purported to be signed by a labor committee of that city. The federal officers are endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the sender.

Both Judges Richardson and Pierce have dealt with several cases that have arisen out of attempts to unionize the engravers' shops in Boston, and last Monday Judge Pierce continued the contempt proceedings until to-day, stating that if the strike of the photo-engravers had not been called off by that time some of the defendants would be dealt with according to law. One of the defendants in the case is Louis Kohlmetz of Chicago, and others who have been active in connection with the strike came from St. Louis and Philadelphia.

WOMAN GIVES LIFE FOR DOG.

Killed by Motor Car as She Tried to Save Pet.

Mayfield, Mass., Nov. 21.—In trying to save the life of a dog, a wealthy visitor in this district has lost her own. Miss Helen Herbert was walking with a dog at Five Ashes, when a motor car rounded the bend of the road and came toward her.

The dog jumped in front of the oncoming car, and Miss Herbert at once sprang after the animal to save it from its impending fate. Her kindly effort was made at the cost of her life. The car struck her and she fell and was drawn underneath it.

The brave woman was picked up in an unconscious condition and was taken to Twitts Ghyll, where she was temporarily residing with a view to purchasing property. Every assistance was rendered by the two ladies in the car, and two doctors and a nurse were summoned, but she died, having sustained a severe fracture of the skull.

ASKS LODGE TO WITHDRAW

Gov.-elect Foss Demands His Retirement

FROM SENATORSHIP FIGHT

In the Event of His Refusal, Mr. Foss Declares He Will Campaign the State Against the Nahant Statesman.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 21.—Governor-elect Foss issued a statement yesterday in which he demanded that Senator Henry Cabot Lodge withdraw from the field for re-election. In the event of a refusal, Mr. Foss declared he would go into every portion of the commonwealth in a campaign to defeat the senator.

Mr. Foss' statement in part was as follows:—

"In the name of the majority of the sovereign people of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, I demand that Henry Cabot Lodge surrender his seat in the United States Senate by withdrawing from his contest for re-election.

"His election to the Senate would be a repudiation of the great victory of the people at the last election. He was on trial as much if not more than Governor Draper, and if he had been the candidate my majority would have been double what it was.

"The issues on which the fight was made, on which I was elected, were honest tariff revision downward, lower duties on the necessities of life, free raw materials, an untaxed food supply, reciprocity with Canada and more democracy in our form of government.

"We all know where Senator Lodge stands on these issues and where he has stood all these years. To re-elect him would be a step backward, and Massachusetts has never learned to walk backward.

"I shall never sign his credentials except at the end of a campaign which will make the last one look like an afternoon tea party.

"He must surrender or fight. He must defend his position before the people.

"The people of Massachusetts will not permit him longer to manipulate the legislature. I am ready and if he does not retire will be on the stump in every section of the state, and we will find out where the people stand."

GASTON OUT FOR SENATE.

Banker Sends Appeal to Democratic Legislators.

Boston, Nov. 21.—Colonel William A. Gaston, former Democratic candidate for governor, made his first authoritative announcement of his candidacy for the United States Senate, to succeed Henry Cabot Lodge Saturday, when he sent out letters to the Democratic members-elect of the incoming legislature, asking them to vote for him.

OVER 100 KILLED IN CONFLICT.

Mexican Revolutionists Battle Soldiers and Police.

Mexico City, Nov. 21.—Estimates of the number killed in the fight between revolutionists and police on one side and revolutionists on the other at Puebla still ranged Saturday at from 100 to 170. Dispatches from Puebla were positive that over 100 had been killed in the conflict.

Aquiles Gerdan, whose house was the scene of the fight, was shot dead by soldiers while resisting arrest in a tunnel, where he had taken refuge. He fought to the last, firing at the officers as they entered his hiding place.

According to late advices, there is little fear of further trouble, as the troops reported that a large number of factory employees are still talking revolution but they are not taken seriously.

The fighting was confined to the vicinity of the Gerdan house, where a large number of revolutionists had gathered to discuss plans for an uprising scheduled for yesterday.

Secret service men heard of the meeting and obtained a squad of police to break it up. The house was a small arsenal and when the officers approached the occupants began to fire from the windows and balconies.

Calls for reinforcements were sent and later soldiers joined the police.

Not being satisfied, I was examined by the physician of the Polyclinic Hospital; they also pronounced the disease Consumption, which was proven later, by an examination of my sputum, as Tuberculosis Bacilli was found. I was ordered to a Consumptive Hospital. My nephew would not allow me to go until I had tried Eckman's Alternative. Before I had taken the medicine three weeks I had marked relief; night sweats ceased, the cough was relieved; cough became loose and easy; fever left me and I commenced getting well. LIBERALS FULL OF CONFIDENCE

Labor Party Presents a Problem

FIGHT SHORT AND SHARP

Legislation Demanded to Offset the Decision That Trade Unions Cannot Help with Their Funds.

London, Nov. 21.—With the delivery of Premier Asquith's speech declaring the policy of the government, following as it did Mr. Balfour's outline of the unionist policy early last week, the two parties in the political contest in Great Britain have laid their cards on the table. The fight will be short and sharp and from the attitude of the politicians who already have taken the platform as bitter as it will be short. When the failure of the veto conference was announced all signs favored the government candidates just fresh from their successes in the bye-elections. Good trade returns increased the popularity of free trade, while the unionists, disorganized, had apparently lost heart. Some of their newspapers even predicted their defeat should an election ensue. The approach of the dissolution of Parliament, however, restored their confidence, and although a section of the party, which a few weeks ago advocated federal home rule, is finding it awkward to recant, the ranks generally have been re-formed.

The reform of the House of Lords is naturally the foremost question on which the election will be fought. A number of unionists made up of old Tories are unwilling to accept Mr. Balfour's scheme, particularly objecting to the elimination of the hereditary principle, but the influence of the men who comprise this section will have little effect. A plank of importance in the unionist platform is opposition to home rule and "the use of American dollars to destroy the British constitution." The latter cry has lost some force through the publication of a statement that only the sum of $75,000 was collected by the Irish leaders, one third of which came from Canada, the subscription list in that country being headed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the premier. The unionists opened their tariff reform campaign in the manufacturing districts when the crisis was reached and hoped to be given time to make appreciable inroads on the liberal strongholds. Dissolution intervened and improved business conditions followed, which tended against the success of the plan.

The liberals are full of confidence in their policy for the abolition of the veto power of the House of Lords, free trade and the success of the government's social legislation. They have an awkward problem to face in seeking a solution of conditions arising from the Osborne judgment, which prohibits trade unions from using their funds to support the labor party. The labor members of the House of Commons are demanding that legislation be enacted to overcome this judgment, and Mr. Asquith has promised to announce the government's policy on the matter this week. The judgment has had the effect of reducing the number of labor candidates, thus avoiding three-cornered contests, in which the liberals lost a dozen seats last January.

It is expected that the elections will be concluded by December 18. The boroughs including London will poll between December 3 and 8; the district boroughs between December 7 and 17, and the counties between December 8 and 17. The peers in the coming election will have an advantage not accorded since the days of the "long Parliament." The resolution declaring it an infringement on the liberties of the Commons for a peer or a prelate to concern himself in the election of the members was not renewed at this Parliament. The suffragettes are well provided with funds for the elections, but the public has lost curiosity in their actions.

QUINCY GRANITE MAN.

Angelo Malnati, Successful Manufacturer, Died Friday Night.

Quincy, Mass., Nov. 1.—Angelo Malnati, one of Quincy's best known Italians and for many years a prominent granite manufacturer at South Quincy, died at his home on Intervale street Friday night after a lingering illness. Mr. Malnati came to Quincy many years ago and after working at his trade for some years went into the granite business for himself. His specialty was monuments that called for carved work, and some of the handsomest carved monuments ever turned out in this city came from his plant. His business was a success from the start, and he did a large and profitable business. He was the owner of considerable real estate in Quincy, one parcel of which is what is known as Malnati's block on Brooks avenue. He was 52 years of age and leaves a widow, two sons and two daughters.

MURDER PUZZLES BRITISH.

The Second Man Tried for Crime Is Freed.

London, Nov. 21.—The great mystery of the tragedy in Gorse Hall, Cheshire, remains unsolved, as the jury at Chester assizes acquitted Mark Wilde of the murder of George Harry Storrs, a wealthy Lancashire mill owner and contractor.

Edward Theophilus Nelson, who defended Wilde, is a negro. He appeared for Howard in the earlier stages of the latter's trial.

In this inexplicable crime, committed on Nov. 1, 1909, two accused men have in succession been declared not guilty. Cornelius Howard, a relative of the victim, was the first prosecuted, but at the Chester assizes he established an alibi and was found innocent of the charge.

Mark Wilde, a young ex-soldier, who left the Worcestershire regiment in 1909, was arrested in August last, just as he had ended a term of imprisonment. He alleged an alibi and denied that the revolver left at Gorse hall by the assailant was his, and his five days' trial before Justice Horridge has resulted, as stated, in his discharge from custody, amid the cheers of a crowded court, which there was no attempt to suppress.

The point which remains so mysterious, apart from the baffling identity of the murderer, is why this shocking country mansion tragedy was perpetrated.

OKLAHOMA NEGRO APPEALS.

Wants Supreme Court Decision On Grandfather Clause.

Washington, Nov. 21.—Joseph Atwater, an Oklahoma negro, Saturday, 11 days after the election, filed in the supreme court of the United States an appeal from his appeal from the decision of the Oklahoma courts which had refused to enjoin election officials in Oklahoma City from denying him the right to vote on the 8th. The petition for injunction was based on the claim that the "grandfather clause"

PROTECTING SHEEP RAISERS.

The worthless dog seems to be holding its own against the legislature thus far. The attempt to raise the taxes on dogs was a mistake. There was no reason for a higher tax on them, because that would do little towards eliminating the worthless cur and it would most certainly work a hardship on people who own a pet or a blooded animal. The bill deserved defeat. The remedy would seem to be that owners give a bond sufficient to cover any possible damage their dogs might do. This would cost the owners a very small sum, providing their dogs were fit to be at large. Certainly sheep raisers must have protection if that industry is to thrive in Vermont; and sheep growing ought to become a valuable industry in this state. —Northfield News.
